WHO IT FITS

Small and medium dogs up to 60 lb — dachshunds, shih tzus, spaniels. A 2.6 inch rise per step, reaching 21.3 inches at five steps. A labrador will compress the foam too far.

WILL IT FIT?

Measure the height of the sofa cushion or mattress, not the frame. Three steps reaches 15.7 inches, four reaches 19.9 inches, five reaches 21.3 inches. If you are between two, size up: a dog will happily step down onto a top step that sits slightly proud, but will refuse one that is short.

MATERIALS

High-density foam, no frame

CARE

Unzips and machine washes

WARRANTY & RETURNS

Setup & use

GETTING STARTED

1. Measure the cushion, not the frame. Three steps reaches 15.7 in, four 19.9 in, five 21.3 in. Between two sizes, size up.
2. Leave it in place for a week. Put it where he jumps and ask nothing of him. Then treat him onto the bottom step only. Most refusals come from being lifted onto the top step on day one.
3. Set it against the sofa. On polished parquet, set it against the sofa so the sofa takes the push.

BEFORE YOU START

- ☐ Height measured from the floor to the top of the bed, sofa or seat
- ☐ Floor space in front of the furniture for the depth of the stairs
- ☐ Hard floors: a non-slip base or rug underneath
- ☐ Treats for the first few sessions

PLACEMENT GUIDELINES

HEIGHT

Choose the step count whose top step sits just under the surface your dog is climbing onto, not above it.

POSITION

Push the stairs flush against the furniture so there is no gap at the top for a paw to slip into.

TRAINING

Teach going up first, one step at a time with treats; coming down is the part to practise most.

Safety. Do not exceed the listed weight limit. Keep the stairs pushed up against the furniture and check they do not slide before each use.
